Editorial

FEBRUARY 1995

Welcome

To the first issue of 1995. This issue is slightly late due to circumstances beyond our control. Just as we were going to print we learned that the BNP have polled 488 votes, almost 17%, in an East London council election. No doubt many activists will feel a little disappointed at not securing the seat but beating the Liberal candidate in an area in which until recently Liberals were the ruling party is no mean feat. Now is the time to consolidate and then build on the Nationalist support. Don't desert your voters stay loyal, stay in regular contact, let them know you are there all the time, not just at elections. Then slowly but surely you will reap the rewards of victory.

Dirty tricks.

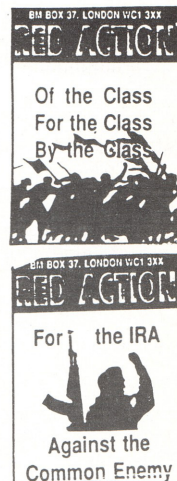

We have been asked by Comrades associated with prisoner welfare groups, NOT to print in future the addresses of Nationalist Comrades in prison. It would seem that "anti-Fascists" have been getting hold of these addresses and using them to cause our POW's hassle. One paper which is produced for the West Indian community even printed some of the details of Nationalists in prison with a subtle suggestion that they should be singled out for "special attention" by other prisoners.

To those responsible be warned, this tactic must stop immediately. If it doesn't, we shall retaliate in kind.

Dirty tricks 2.

As soon as we heard of the trouble at the international football match between England and the Irish republic we guessed that British Nationalists would be accused of being responsible. Now, after the hysteria has subsided a more objective look at the incident can be made. True, English supporters pelted a group in the stands below them but many of the targets were wearing "Celtic FC" shirts and at least two Irish flags with "Red Action-IRA" were being flown in a clear and successful attempt to provoke English fans. This poor quality photograph reproduced from a national newspaper clearly shows a man in a green top giving the traditional IRA-marxist salute, and the stickers found at the ground seems to confirm yet another "dirt-tricks" campaign originally hatched in a North London pub has been successful.

Marxist salutes and "Red Action" stickers give the game away in Dublin.

Now go Forward.

Our task of winning our country back from the traitors that currently control it is a daunting one. Many of us that have been around for years will no doubt feel that the struggle is becoming harder. But, we only have ourselves to blame, we have been insular for years, spurning the ideas of younger people that have only come recently to the cause and dismissing them as only being useful as a physical presence. Let all that change NOW! To survive, we need youth coming into our movement. New ideas should be welcomed, not dismissed. We must go further and start campaigning to attract more youth into British Nationalism. Daily in our schools, young men and women are being "brainwashed" by teachers belonging to the SWP or the Socialist Teachers Organisation into accepting Britain as being a multi-racial nation. We must change that conception. Target schools for leaflet campaigns, distribute free copies of our literature. Schoolkids won't come to meetings in pubs to hear the word, we must take the word to them! The future survival of our movement and indeed our Race and Nation depends on the youth of today. Don't alienate them and lose them. We need them and we need them NOW!

"CHARITY" MONEY TO FUND HOLOCAUST MUSEUM.

Lottery profits to build "HOLOCAUST" MUSEUM.

Plans have been revealed, to use some of the money raised by Britain's National Lottery, to establish the first "National Holocaust Museum" in this country, sited within the Imperial War Museum complex in London.

A proportion of the massive profits from the National Lottery have been allocated to the Arts, Sports, Britain's Heritage and recognised charities. In addition to these worthy causes, a "Millennium fund" is also being established to commemorate Britain in the year 2000. This fund is planned to be used to support projects of "national significance to Britain and the British people" and it is from here that the Jewish authorities hope to be able to draw on funds to establish a new museum dedicated to "the victims of Hitler's genocide".

"It has been our ambition for many years to create a Holocaust museum in Britain, as this is the only country in Europe not to have one" said a spokesman for the Board of Deputies of British Jews.

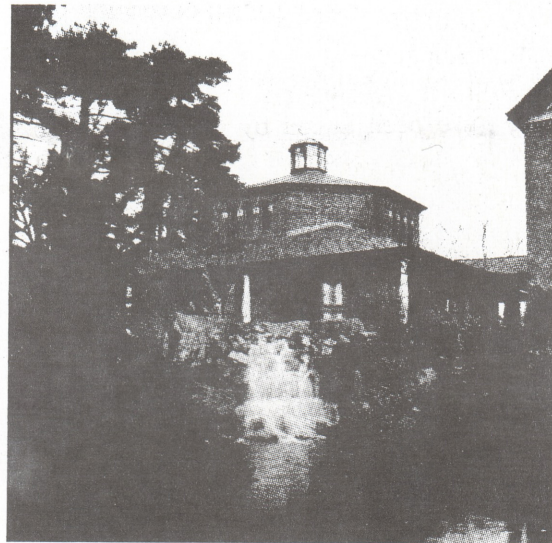

The Labour MP for Thurrock, Essex, Andrew Mackinlay, has tabled a written parliamentary question asking the Prime Minister to support the proposal and a spokesman for the Holocaust Educational Trust stated "As most of our trustees are either MP's or peers, we expect substantial support in parliament".

The plans have also been warmly welcomed by Dr Alan Borg, director-general of the Imperial War Museum, despite the museum already housing a permanent exhibition on the Belsen labour camp.

But Mr Borg reacted angrily when telephoned by a reporter from League Sentinel, who suggested that the money could be better utilised by establishing a memorial room dedicated to Rudolf Hess, who had sacrificed first his liberty and then his life, in an attempt to end the fratricidal war between European brothers.

Dr Borg commented, "This museum is about war, not peace", but refused to comment when challenged about his support for a memorial to an event, the authenticity of which is still challenged by many respected historians.

"Beth Shalom" Britain's first Holocaust museum built privately in Nottinghamshire.

Britain's first privately owned "Holocaust" museum will open later this year in Nottingham. The three-acre museum is being built on a 19th century farm estate in Laxton, Nottinghamshire in the heart of Sherwood Forest.

A new memorial building will house a permanent exhibition and the farmhouse has been transformed into a library and educational centre. The buildings previously housed a Christian retreat.

The museum will be known as "The Beth Shalom Holocaust memorial centre".

HOME NEWS

London:

Former Prime Minister, Sir Edward Heath, speaking at the Yakar Jewish study centre in Hendon, North London, shocked the all-Jewish audience when he voiced fierce opposition to holding "war-crimes trials in Britain. Sir Edward said that the allies had agreed to stop trying "war criminals" in 1947 and felt that "we can't continue these animosities for ever". Also looking at the legal difficulties, Sir Edward, a qualified QC, warned that witnesses' memories could not be trusted to be accurate after such a long time.

The Board of Deputies has asked the Government for up to £50,000 of taxpayer's money to improve security around Jewish owned properties, following recent bomb attacks. The Home Secretary is expected to back his co-religionist's demands.

Christian politicians from both the Government and the opposition parties, have been demonstrating their unswerving devotion to Zionism over the past few weeks by attending every Anglo-Jewish function that they have been invited or summoned, as some cynics might say.

Prime Minister, John Major, his party in tatters over a spate of recent scandals, still managed to find time to address the annual dinner of the JIA in London.

Other speakers at recent Anglo-Jewish fund raising functions have included, Labour's Tony Blair, Margaret Beckett and Gordon Brown

East London.

The British National Party candidate, Derek Beackon, attracted 20% of the vote in a recent council by-election in Lansbury ward, Tower Hamlets. The BNP are expecting two more impending by-elections in East London, particularly Weavers ward, which has been very receptive to a BNP recruiting campaign.

A spokesman for the Board of Jewish Deputies told a press conference "The BNP are now well established as the third party in areas of inner London and in some places it is challenging hard for second place".

Leeds.

Three Leeds based Nationalists who were accused of violent activities in a recent Dispatches programme on Channel 4 television and arrested by Yorkshire police shortly afterwards, have been released without any charges being brought against them.

Essex.

One of Britain's most senior judges shocked those in court recently by declaring "Its at times like these that I would like Adolf Hitler to be in power".

The Judge, Brian Watling, was sentencing three youths at Chelmsford Crown Court when he made the comments, believed to reflect his frustration at the "soft" sentencing restrictions in force in Britain. Predictably, complaints have been made by the Holocaust Educational Trust and the Race Relations Authority.

Walsall

Walsall council have become the first local authority to set up a public register of council employees who are members of "secret societies" such as the Freemasons. Employees will also have to declare their membership of political parties. "Failure to comply could result in disciplinary action" said a council spokesman. The move has been demanded by the Unison union, who are hoping to force out both Freemasons and Nationalists.

Torquay.

Nationalist beaten and stabbed in doorstep attack.

A former election agent for the National Front, Mr Mark Cotterill, has been badly beaten by two thugs who tried to force their way into his home in Torquay, Devon.

Mr Cotterill, now a member of the Conservative Party, and editor of a Nationalist magazine "British Patriot", was attacked when he answered the door at 7 o'clock in the evening by two men, one wielding an iron bar and the other a knife. Despite efforts to protect himself, Mr Cotterill was beaten about the head and his face was slashed around his left eye, nearly blinding him. He was rushed by ambulance to Torbay hospital, where 16 stitches were placed in a head wound and also received treatment for facial cuts and two broken cheek bones.

Police later arrested two men in connection with the attack, Anti-Nazi League activist, Richard Heyes, 32, from Paignton, and 23 year old, Richard Hansbury, from Exeter. Both men appeared before Torbay Magistrates Court and were remanded on bail, despite facing the serious charge of "unlawful wounding". The magistrates granted a defence application banning the publication of the defendant's addresses, as they feared "revenge attacks".

This cowardly attack is strikingly similar to the attack on the BNP's press officer, Mike Newlands, at his London home. Devon police told League Sentinel that they did not suspect any link between the attacks but would advise the Met police of the circumstances.

23 year old Richard Hansbury, an ANL activist from Exeter. Accused of unlawful wounding.

Illegal Immigrants Target Britain.

A 100,000 On The Way ?

A leaked report prepared by Immigration and Customs Officers has revealed that over 100,000, mainly Asian immigrants are planning to enter Britain illegally in the next two years and have admitted that they are virtually powerless to stop the influx.

Immigration officers and Police have discovered that up to 100,000 would-be immigrants are currently in Russia and will be making their way to the West, with their ultimate target being Britain.

The immigrants enter the former Soviet Union into the mainly Moslem Uzbekistan and Kazakhstan and from there they cross into Russia. The report quotes a Russian immigration official as stating, "There are over a half of million illegal immigrants hiding in Russia, and of these, about 100,000 are from the Indian sub-continent who are ultimately heading for Britain".

They then cross into Poland and from there into Germany. Last year, over 300 Asians were arrested at just one crossing point in Brest. In Germany, they are "safe-housed" normally by organised criminals but those with left-wing political connections are often hidden by "anti-fascists" who charge a smaller fee and use this income to boost their party funds.

As soon as the opportunity arises, the immigrants are smuggled into France and taken to one of the Channel ports, where they are hidden in lorries. With 3,000 lorries a day passing through Dover alone, Kent police and Customs officers admit that they are fighting a losing battle.

In 1994, just 400 illegals were discovered at Dover, which is believed to be just a tiny fraction of the numbers arriving successfully.

A special "task-force" has been formed by Kent police headed by Detective Inspector Tony Masters. D.I. Masters has already called for a national squad to be formed to combat the problem.

The illegal immigrants are paying £2000 to £3000 each to be smuggled into Britain.

Once they arrive, they are taken to various big cities such as Birmingham, Wolverhampton and London, where they are found work in Asian businesses. They then save enough money to buy false documents, which are then used to claim welfare payouts.

Even if they are caught, many immediately claim "political asylum" and those that manage to establish themselves here, then often finance further illegal entry for relations.

The former head of Britain's Immigration service, Mr Peter Tompkins, has publicly stated he believes that each year "tens of thousands illegal immigrants arrive on these shores and vanish into immigrant ghettos". He estimates that there are over ONE MILLION ILLEGAL IMMIGRANTS IN LONDON ALONE!

Mr Tompkins also claims that the true scale of illegal immigration into Britain is being deliberately covered up by the Government fearful of a White backlash.

It must be noted, that to date, NO GOVERNMENT MINISTER HAS DENIED MR TOMPKIN'S ALLEGATIONS!

On their way to Britain. 100,000 illegal immigrants in the next two years.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE BILL

New law aimed at censoring Nationalists.

The Home Secretary, Michael Howard, revealed to a group of Jewish ex-servicemen, that one of the main aims of the new Criminal Justice bill was to "help in the fight against intolerant organisations such as the far-right National Front and the British National Party."

The legislation, which has just received the royal assent, was designed to clear the way for easier prosecution of "racial extremists" and made the distribution, as well as the publication, of "racist" and "anti-semitic" propaganda an arrestable offence. This would "significantly improve the powers of the police to take immediate action" claimed Mr Howard.

The Home Secretary, who was addressing a meeting of the Association of Jewish ex-Servicemen (AJAX), an organisation that is far more politically active than its name suggests, stated that the government "particularly deplored the activities of far-right groups such as Combat 18".

The Director of Public Prosecutions has already ruled that C18's "utterly obnoxious" literature contravened the law, said Mr Howard, "But, there was a problem of positively identifying members, as well as the producers and distributors of the offending material".

In answer to a question about Islamic freedom fighters such as Hammas being allowed to raise money for their cause at many universities and colleges, the Home Secretary replied that he "had no power to direct the police to act". A statement that seems open to challenge by British Nationalist groups.

Another piece of censorship that has crept in under the act now makes it illegal to "possess racist material" or to "possess material likely to incite racial hatred". No longer will police have to prove that the offending material was being distributed or was intended to be distributed, mere possession of such material is enough to invite prosecution.

It will be interesting to see if police prosecute "anti-Fascists" who hold large collections of such material in their files.

The Association of Jewish Ex-Servicemen (AJEX). Despite the trappings they are an active political organisation opposing British Nationalism.

Lest we forget..

77th

anniversary

The REAL Holocaust.

In case you had forgotten, it was 50 years ago last month, that Allied troops freed prisoners from German wartime labour camps. Yes, in case you had forgotten, the "British" television companies showed some 15 hours of programmes dedicated to the labour camps and the "Holocaust" alleged to have taken place within, even though hardly any of the prisoners, if any at all, were British citizens. The media excuse for this extensive coverage was "lest we forget".

This article does not intend to debate the German labour camps, nor the numbers of prisoners alleged to have perished in them. Instead, we want to remind you of the 77th anniversary last October, of the founding of a political system that has, to date, cost the lives of some 150 Million people.

Communism, the REAL Holocaust.

Russian communists overthrew the lawful rulers of Russia in October 1917, then almost immediately transformed the country into the world's largest prison camp, imprisoning virtually an entire nation. Under their psychopathic leader, Vladimir Lenin, the communists began to develop their policies of de-stabilisation, imprisonment, torture and mass murder which even today is its "trademark".

Vladimir Lenin and his trademark of death.

Lenin was the co-founder of the Marxist-Leninist school of thought that is still followed 70 years after his death in countries such as China, Cuba and North Korea.

Under Lenin, the Russian people were first starved and then terrorised into submission. "We have no time for the prattle of human rights; What is moral for us is anything that serves the cause" was the policy he dictated. These tactics included the creation of artificial famines in which hundreds of thousands of people starved to death.

The newly created secret political police, the Cheka, ruthlessly hounded suspected political dissidents and used torture and summary execution to terrorise the masses that Lenin professed to love.

Indeed, it was Lenin who first organised concentration camps in the frozen Arctic regions of Russia where tens of thousands of people were starved and worked to death.

Communism "for a better life and a happier life". Reality was starvation in the camps.

Having subdued his own people, Lenin began creating and exploiting opportunities to expand his murderous policies into the rest of Europe. As a measure of his success it is a fact that by the time of his death in 1924, most European countries had small communist groups financed by Russia within their borders.

After Lenin's death, the dictatorship of Russia was taken over by Joseph Stalin, a long-time Leninist disciple.

Stalin, a man with few original ideas of his own, simply built on the foundations laid by his predecessor. Once again artificial famines were used as a political weapon to punish vast regions of Russia. Capitalism was blamed for the famine and millions died.

Millions were deliberately worked and starved to death in the concentration camps.

For Stalin, WW2 was a blessing. After the war the greatest mass-murderer of all time now found himself controlling vast areas of Europe that he could never have hoped to dominate through political means. "Puppet" governments were installed and millions of dissident Poles, Hungarians, Czechs and others were sent on the one-way trip to the Gulags.

The "Gulag", a communist "death camp". Where the REAL "holocaust" took place.

Again and again, the communists tried to spread their malignant cancer into other parts of the world. Revolutionary movements were organised and financed by Moscow. Britain became a prime target for communist subversion. Both Trade Unions and the "peace movement" CND were infiltrated and indeed dominated by the communists. "Puppets" such as the British Communist Party and the International Socialists, (now the SWP) were financed by Moscow. Fortunately, with no success, the British people were not revolutionaries.

Communism did have several successes, including Cuba, North Korea and China.

This spread of communism to Asia bore the now traditional hallmark of the system.

In China, communist "Red Guards" purged the population of the professional classes. Millions died in the process of "re-education". Only Taiwan, a tiny island off of the Chinese mainland, stood firm in defiance, as it does today.

In Vietnam, millions more died as the "Viets" slaughtered anybody they considered to be above the class of "peasant". Nearby, Cambodia also fell under communist control and the dictator, Pol-Pot, with his now infamous Kymer-Rouge, murdered an estimated 10 million people for the "crime" of being able to read or write.

Still today communism continues to spread death and terror as a policy.

The Tibetan people, a gentle, shy nation, has been occupied and "ethnically cleansed" by the communist Chinese.

Terror groups such as the ANC in South Africa and the IRA in Britain, have benefited from communist support.

The figure of 150 Million deaths, directly attributable to communism, is a conservative estimate; it could be far higher.

Recently, much has been published and broadcast concerning the "Holocaust", a word hijacked by the world Jewish entity. The hypocrisy of this emphasis on an episode fifty years ago and its suggestion that Jews have a monopoly on suffering was exposed out of their own mouths. At the funeral of Yossel (Joe) Slovo, the South African communist terrorist leader, the Chief Rabbi of South Africa, Cyril Harris, poured out words of affection and unabashed admiration for a man whose hands were stained with the blood of countless innocent people. Slovo's political creed was identical with that cruel system, oriental communism, which undoubtedly was responsible for the real "holocaust" of the Twentieth Century.

One day, the truth will triumph!

Austria

Bishops bow to Zionist Pressure.

The Austrian Bishops Conference has finally bowed to intense pressure from Austrian Zionists and International Jewry, by banning a 200 year old Christian sect dedicated to the memory of a young child allegedly ritually murdered by 18th century Jews in the Tyrol region of Austria.

The sect had its headquarters in the Church of the "Blessed Little Andrew of Rinn" which attracted thousands of pilgrims each year from all over the world, who came to see the skeleton of the murdered infant.

In an effort to appease the Jewish protestors, the Austrian church authorities have ordered the remains of Little Andrew to be sealed behind a wall out of sight. They have also changed the name of the church to "Our Lady's Visitation" hoping this will put an end to the pilgrimages.

The newly elected Austrian authorities lost no time in demonstrating their subjugation to Israel, when on a recent visit to the bandit state, the new president of Austria, Thoms Klestil, publicly apologised for Austria's part in the "holocaust".

The former president, Kurt Waldheim, had always refused to acknowledge both the existence of the "holocaust" and any condemnation of Austria's wartime role.

A Spokesman for the Nationalist Austrian Freedom Party, which won 25% of the vote in the election, told Sentinel's European correspondent, "Klestil is a disgrace. He has humiliated Austria and its people, to gain favour with the Zionists. He should now resign".

A prominent Austrian "anti-fascist", Harald Hanisch, has been found dead on a railway line just outside of Innsbruck. Hanisch, who came from Vienna was in Innsbruck to organise a demonstration against a rally being held by the Nationalist, "Austrian Freedom Party". Anti-Fascists have accused Nationalists of murdering Hanisch, but the police are treating the case as suicide. An Austrian Comrade told League Sentinel, "it is suspected that he took his own life whilst the balance of his mind was disturbed, but, this was his normal condition"

United States.

The well known film maker, Steven Spielberg, has donated over two million dollars to establish a film and video archive in Washington's National Holocaust Memorial Museum. Critics of the museum have already re-named it "Jew-rassic park".

Germany.

Gunter Deckert, leader of the NDP, has been banned from entering the sites of any Wartime Labour camps, as he has upset some Holocaust promoters by lecturing visitors on revisionism. Mr Deckert tried to defy the ban, and was arrested as he tried to enter the grounds of the former labour camp, Buchenwald. Earlier this year, Mr Deckert was given a one year suspended sentence for publicly denying the Holocaust. The judge in the case commended Mr Deckert for trying to "strengthen the resistance of the German people to Jewish demands".

Romania.

The Romanian President, Ion Iliescu, admitted during a recent visit to London that he was powerless to stop sales of Mein Kampf in Romania. The Romanian President was addressing a meeting of the Board of Deputies, who once again were trying to interfere with the laws of another country, by demanding the banning of the book. An official from the Romanian Embassy revealed to League Sentinel that Mein Kampf was currently the best selling book in the country.

Holland.

The Dutch nationalist party, Centrumpartij 86, has voted to change it's name to the Nationale Volkspartij, (National Peoples Party). The decision was taken at the party's annual congress.

The NV will adopt a "Third Position" approach to the political scene in the Netherlands and welcomes contact with other European Nationalist groups. They can be contacted via:

Germany.

Republican Party Chooses a New Leader.

Germany's nationalistic Republican Party has chosen a new leader to replace 71 year old Franz Schonhuber who has led the party since its formation in 1983.

The new leader is a 39 year old lawyer, Rolf Schllierer, who is an elected State Councillor for the Republican Party in the Baden-Wurttemberg district of Germany.

Herr Schonhuber attracted some criticism from within the party following his decision to form a closer working relationship with the National Socialist German Peoples Union, which is led by Dr Gerhard Frey.

This, however, was not the reason for his decision not to stand for re-election as party leader. Herr Schonhuber felt that as the party's support had dropped last year, it was time for a new image for the party, preferably based on the success achieved in Austria by the Freedom Party, led by the young, charismatic Jorg Haider.

In a bid to heal old wounds and unify the party behind him, Rolf Schlierer has opened up the membership to all German Nationalists. In a prepared statement he said, "It is now time for all Germans who care for their political and cultural heritage to unite and stand as one force against those who wish to destroy our German way of life and our German identity".

Flanders.

MP's from the Flemish national party, Vlaams Blok, have complained in the Belgian Parliament about a television programme shown in Britain by the BBC, in which film of the annual pilgrimage to the Ijzer monument in Diksmuide by Flemish Nationalists, was used by the programme to suggest the event was a cover for gun-running and other terrorist activities.

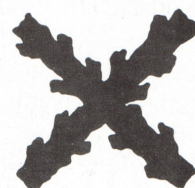

The annual pilgrimage began in 1930 and is regarded by the Flemish people as one of the most important cultural days of the year, bringing with it a message of "No more brothers wars".

The offending programme was "Between the Lines", and features the editor of Searchliar magazine, Gerry Gable, as an "advisor".

A Flemish colleague told League Sentinel, "We have been seriously insulted by the BBC and are demanding an apology. We have also addressed questions to the British ambassador about the long standing friendly relationship between the Flemish and British people. We will not tolerate having this sacred occasion used as a prop for sensationalist entertainment".

Wallonie.

The Wallonian based Belgian National Front, which gained 47 seats in Belgium's local elections last October have been accused of "anti-Semitism" following a Belgian television programme that showed a BNF councillor, Daniel Leskens, urinating on a Jewish grave. A BNF spokesman denied this was a political act and claimed that the councillor had been "caught short" and performed a natural bodily function. No offence was intended he assured the media.

Former Agent Accuses MOSSAD of Maxwell Murder:

A former MOSSAD agent, Victor Ostrovsky, who now lives in hiding in Canada, has sensationally accused the Israeli Secret Service organisation, MOSSAD, of murdering the arch-Zionist, newspaper magnate and thief, Robert Maxwell. This supports the theory first published by League Sentinel in issue 15.

Ostrovsky, accuses MOSSAD of the murder in his newly published book, "The Other Side of Deception" and, astonishingly, in a literary industry controlled largely by Zionists, the book has already reached the top ten sales list in America.

In the book, Ostrovsky claims that Maxwell was not a MOSSAD agent, but a "sayanim", a "helper", whose newspaper empire-building was masterminded by MOSSAD as a way of influencing British public opinion. The author maintains that the massive thefts from the newspaper's pension fund was also organised by the Israeli Secret Service and much of the money was spent on financing their intelligence operations in Britain and Europe.

Of the death of Maxwell, Ostrovsky explains that although Maxwell had built himself into a position of relative strength by arranging meetings between the Russian KGB, with whom he had very close ties, and their Israeli counterparts, when he was refused financial assistance to support his ailing business empire and threatened to expose a plot hatched on his yacht between MOSSAD and the KGB to overthrow the Gorbachev regime, "a small meeting at Mossad HQ resulted in a consensus to terminate Maxwell. During the night of November 4-5, their problem ceased to exist".

The decision to allow Maxwell burial rights on Jerusalem's Mount of Olives, a rare honour for non-Israeli's, became necessary after a Spanish autopsy raised more questions than it answered. Fearing that the body could be exhumed for further examination at a later date if buried anywhere else than in Israel, a decision was taken by the Israeli authorities to bury the body where exhumation would never be permitted!

Commenting on Maxwell's role as a Mossad "sayanim", Ostrovsky reveals that when he was an active Mossad agent in 1986 there were over 3000 of these "volunteer helpers" in Britain and Mossad had 100 "safe- houses" in London alone!

Co-operation between the British Secret Services and Mossad, even allowed the Israelis to kidnap and hold their dissident nuclear scientist Mordechai Vanunu in a "safe house" in London until he could be transported back to Israel to face the rest of his life in prison.

After hearing of Ostrovsky's claims, League Sentinel wrote to Stella Rimington the head of Britain's Secret Service, to ask for an explanation as to why a foreign state was being allowed to maintain such a large number of agents in this country. To date we have not received a reply.

Former MOSSAD agent Victor Ostrovsky served in the Israeli navy before becoming a spy. Now he hides in fear of his life.

Oscar Schindler. "Hero" or "Villain" ?

The case of one Oscar Schindler, currently the hero of a new Spielberg film called "Schindler's List", proves beyond doubt that Hollywood is truly entitled to its nickname "the dream factory". In the case of "Schindler's List" perhaps the term the "nightmare factory" would be more appropriate.

Schindler, the latest "Hero of the Holocaust", is presented as a German businessman who, playing the role of "Pied Piper", leads a column of oppressed Jews across Poland to safety after he decides he has made enough profit from their slave labour. Much of his wealth was in fact generated from war production and whilst there was the opportunity for money to be made, German born Schindler ardently supported the National Socialists.

Schindler's sudden conversion to "saviour" of the Jews only occurred when he obtained inside information from senior political acquaintances, which suggested that the war would be over in six months or less and that Germany would be defeated.

Always managing to stay one step ahead of trouble, Schindler now decided to stay one step ahead of avenging Jews by pretending that he had in reality "always loved them" and was prepared to spend a large portion of his ill-gotten gains to help them. Naturally, there is nowhere mentioned in the Schindler fable, the fate of the many Poles, Russians and others who he had also exploited as slaves. They were after all, only Polish and Russian gentiles.

Schindler was not only a black marketer, a thief and a traitor to his country but he was also a paedophile who molested young girls who came under his control as the children of his slave labour workforce.

The National Socialist government, the Army and the SS authorities, were all fanatical in their determination that German soldiers and officials, both at home and in the newly liberated countries, would not become physically involved with local women or girls. The penalty for rape was death by firing squad or, if the victim be a young girl, death by hanging.

Schindler, however, was convinced that his high ranking friends would protect him and continued to abuse young girls and some young boys under his control.

Schindler was obviously unaware that his activities had been brought to the attention of SS-General Heinrich Mueller, head of the Gestapo, and that charges of official corruption, theft, brutality towards prisoners, indecent assault on females and a charge of sodomy under paragraph 175 of the German criminal code were all being prepared against Schindler before the war ended.

A letter from the files of Himmler's security chief, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, confirms this.

In view of the increasing doubts about the true extent of the so-called "holocaust" which are emerging throughout the free world, it is quite understandable why "holocaust promoters" deliberately chose to ignore Schindler's less likeable traits and instead promoted him as a "hero".

The mere fact that the "holocaust promoters" chose Spielberg, the master of fantasy film, to direct this motion picture says it all.

Spielberg, master of the "fantasy film".

Holocaust scholar quoted 'madman,'

By KIRK MAKIN

One of the world's leading authorities on the Holocaust has quoted selectively and extensively a German SS officer who was obviously a madman, the defence at the Ernst Zundel trial has alleged.

Among the claims sworn to by the Nazi, who ultimately hanged himself while awaiting trial for war crimes, was a statement that 25 million Jews were killed in two small extermination camps and that 700 to 800 people could be cramped into a 25 square-metre gas chamber was one of the few people who could provide information about gas chambers at the Treblinka and Belzec camps in Poland, Prof. Hil-berg explained.

The officer said he was responsible for dispensing poison to several

One protracted argument concerned the use of the word "re-settle" in Nazi reports and whether it was a euphemism for annihilate, as Prof. Hilberg fiercely maintained.
